

Authentic Thai Massages

Traditional Thai massage "Nuad Thai"

Traditional Thai massage is a method that dates back more than 2,500 years and is based on the concept and knowledge of the energy channels in the human body called Sen, on which are found the important acupressure points.

Professional therapists apply pressure on these points thereby creating the necessary pressure which relieves your body of the feeling of fatigue, eliminates muscle cramps and nervous tension, stimulates blood and lymph circulation, and eases muscle, joint and tendon mobility.
